Dr. Pamela Moran Named One of 10 Tech Savvy Superintendents

Albemarle County Public Schools Superintendent Dr. Pamela Moran, was named one of 10 "Tech Savvy Superintendents" by eSchool News yesterday.

Dr. Moran was nominated by her peers and selected from among thousands of superintendents nationwide as providing exemplary leadership in supporting the integration of technology into the curriculum, using technology to streamline operations and create efficiencies, and other criteria.

Moran was also recently recognized for her use of social media to engage constituents, particularly the Division's use of YouTube and Twitter, which are integrated onto the main web site.

Please note: Dr. Moran has been invited to a special awards and recognition ceremony at the American Association of School Administrators' annual conference in Phoenix on February 11th, but will not be attending in person due to budgetary constraints being experienced by Albemarle County Public Schools.
